Errors Were Numerous at the Start, and Runs Were Made.

PITCHER ARMSTRONG KICKED

He Didn't Like Umpire Duke's Decisions and Walked Off the Diamond.

Norfolk lost to the Brownies yesterday afternoon by the score of six to four in a game that was at times poorly played by teams. Armstrong's delivery was not perfect in the fourth inning and two runs were forced across the plate by men walking to first. Dissatisfied with the decisions of Umpire Duke, Armstrong left the box and Leanard, who won his game Tuesday, went in to do the twirling. Umpire Duke didn't like the kicking and refused to continue the game. Mr. Stable, who in the early part of the season played with the game. Mr. Stahle, who in the early part of the season played with the Norfolk team, did the umpiring for the rest of the game.

But in this fourth inning the game was lost to the visitors. Hogan was the first man up and got to first on an error of White's. Gruner died from short to first, but advanced the runner to second. Crawford got a single to right. Kinghtly ozoned. Two men were on bases and two were out. Rose drew a complimentary pass and filled the bases, and two were out. Rose drew a complimentary pass and filled the bases. McEvoy waited for four of them and Hogan had to get off third to make room over four of them and about this time and made strenuous protest to the umpire. He was confident that he had been throwing them across the rubber, and Mr. Duke was equally as positive that the space had been going around the plate. The captains were called together. There was a delay of several minutes and Armstrong was seen to walk from the diamond. Without warming up to any extent, Leanard went in the box when the bases were full. Umpire Duke wouldn't go back and finish the game. The crowd yelled for him to keep on umpiring, but he was angry, too. And Mr. Stahle was introduced. He has done some by league work as an umpire and was all right for the crowd. But Sharp found the first one of Leanard's benders and sent it to free country for two sacks. Two men spiked the trobber. Eacho sent a whistier to short, but took the mourner's bench at first and the side roired with four runs.

terday was above like average, and with the proper support there would have been no runs against him. He allowed only four hits, one of which was a bunt in the ninth inning. Until the last inning there were only two men w.o had jound him safely, and only two during the game received free passes to first. But two batters were struck.

Leonard was whacked twice and Armstrong saw two of his twisters go to safe country. The hits were even, each team getting four, Gruner, the man who has a habit of putting 'em over the fonce, didn't get a hit yesterday, and his playing at first was not like he has done before this season. In fact he had a slight touch of dropsy, it was said, and four of the, bails sent to his territory escaped him. Bacho was there with two errors also, and Eache has a habit of keeping clear of that error column. The Brownies went to bat first, and Rose couldn't find the three that were sent over. McEvoy worked the restaurant rick and waited. Jack Arthony fanned the microbes and Sharp sent one to Gruner. Barry dummed a little one down and it wasn't handled. Randell got life by Eacho's tumble, and Keans wont lo Garst an Gruner's avoident. Snith popped one down and Tacho again didn't take care of it. Two runners came across. Keine was caught off first and died, and Owens fanned the air. Two runs and not Keine was caught off first and died, and Owens fanned the air. Two runs and not a hit.

Randall, the famous sprinter who took four medals at the St. Louis Exposition, tore off a single in the third inning for the Collegians and was advanced around when McEvoy falled to get Keane out on the throw to first. The baseman was pulled off the plate in reaching for the ball. Smith fanned, and Owens sent one to second and was out at first, but Randall had spiked to the plate. Churns was out to Anthony in center.

In their half of the ninth the visitors made a try for runs and succeeded in getting one man over the plate. Lawler, the first man up, bunted and hear it out. Barry made a preity sacrifice, and when White went out from short Lawler took third. Randall pasted a good single bringing the runner home. The sprinter then went around to third, but Keane couldn't do better than send one in the air, and Knightly got under it.

Norfolk's star player yesterday was Keane in left garden. He covered a great amount of territory and pulled flown the four files sent out in his direction with asse.
